An elderly Arlington Heights woman has a Santa Claus remembrance of an allegedly illegal price-cutting conspiracy, according to William G. Clark, Illinois attorney general.

Clark said he is conducting an investigation into fixed prices and collusive bids among publishers and wholesalers of library editions of children's books. Clark says that the alleged violations may have been occurring since 1959.

Clark notified superintendents of all districts that his investigation already indicates the "bluebook" that fixed prices have been charged and collusive bids have been submitted for books as late as the year of the conspiracy.

POLICE FOUND no one at home when they went to the address found in the purse. In the meantime, she and relatives were retracing their steps during the evening in an attempt to locate the money.

Shortly after midnight police were notified that the securities had been "lost."

"I would want someone to do the same thing for me," Kirtle told the Day.

He said a relative of the woman telephoned his restaurant and asked about the purse. Kirtle said he would not release the name of the woman who came to River Grove and identified herself and the purse.

"I asked: 'She was white when she came in,'" Kirtle said. He said the family had come to the restaurant for Christmas dinner and the purse for gotten when they left.

KIRK SAID if the securities had not been claimed he would have called the police and taken the money to the bank for safekeeping.

Kirtle said he is a Democratic state representative for the Leyton Township.

Both Kirtle and Arlington Heights Police requested that the name and address of the woman be withheld to insure her safety.

Schools Believed Victims Of Price Fixing Plot

BY TED LACEY

School districts throughout the state may have been victims of an allegedly illegal price-cutting conspiracy, according to William G. Clark, Illinois attorney general.

Clark said he is conducting an investigation into fixed prices and collusive bids among publishers and wholesalers of library editions of children's books. Clark says that the alleged violations may have been occurring since 1959.

Clark notified superintendents of all districts that his investigation already indicates the "bluebook" that fixed prices have been charged and collusive bids have been submitted for books as late as the year of the conspiracy.

CONSEQUENTLY, Clark is proposing a suit on behalf of the state and all public school districts.

trust laws which have been violated.

Clark is requesting all books of education to pass a resolution authorizing him to act in their behalf.

"I think we can do no less than to take an awful lot of paper work," Clark said. "I think we can do no less than to take an awful lot of paper work."

Winston L. Harwood, president of the Illinois Association of School Boards, said the Day the Day it would be "a very costly task," and that "most school districts in the area are nonaligned about it right now."

To comply with Clark's request, Harwood said "we'd have to hire a couple of full time people to sort through all the invoices for past shipments of books for the past several years."

that as many books as we buy we never get a discount. We could order one book of 10,000 books and still be charged the same net rate. I'm glad to see that something is being done about it. Even if we don't come out ahead, it's a step in the right direction.

The District 15 school board is cooperating. At a meeting Dec. 20 Clark's proposed resolution was passed unanimously.

"A district like ours could only hold out for, maybe, three years at most," said Business Manager Stanley K. Rott. "We have thousands of volumes to look through and find specific individual books, and then we may only get a cent or so for each one. Of course, if we were assured we would get a 10 percent discount, we'd be in a better position."

Home Bar Topples, Kills Girl, 2

A 2-year-old, Bensenville girl was killed in Mount Prospect Friday when she was the greatest man in the world.

In the office of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Arlington Heights, a crew of operators and supervisors were arriving. At least we know that we can't be replaced by a recorded message, one of the women stopped. The other women laughed. They then all went to work.

At the Des Plaines Oaks on the Illinois Tollway a barred woman juggled five water glasses in one hand and tried to pick up a plate with a hamburger in it with her other hand. A steady stream of travelers walked in and out of the restaurant. With a few exceptions, the women stopped. The other women laughed. They then all went to work.

Meeting on Housing Law Language Reset

A new day, Wednesday has been set for clarifying the language of the fair housing ordinance proposed for Arlington Heights.

The meeting of the trustees' legal committee which was held this morning was postponed until tomorrow, 1 p.m., because of the village attorney's schedule.

TRUSTEE FRANK Palmieri, chairman of the committee, said a previous engagement of attorney Jack Koenig had caused the postponement.

He emphasized that the ordinance is not scheduled to be a public hearing although it is open to the public.

"We are not planning to open it to the public," Palmieri said. "The purpose of the meeting is to straighten out the legal language of the ordinance."

"Of course, testimony may be heard as long as it does not become heated. The trustees will vote on the ordinance in their Jan. 2 meeting."

The fair housing ordinance was sent to the legal committee by the board of trustees last week when several of the trustees did not understand its implications.

The Realtor then would tell any prospective buyer that the property is discriminating.

THE REVEREND would be able, if he wished to further pursue the purchase of the particular property.

The proposed ordinance states that real estate brokers may not discriminate on the basis of color, national origin, religion or ancestry.

The Realtor who is prohibited to advertise any real property in a manner which would indicate limitation on sale on the basis of race or color because of the discrimination.

The human relations committee said it would like to see the ordinance in the present form without any changes.

For Some, Christmas Means Making Possible Others' Joy

BY MEL MILES

In Fire Station One in Mount Prospect a gaily decorated Christmas tree blinked on and off. In a corner of the fireman's lounge a color television set was tuned into a holiday football game.

In the Arlington Heights police station, a radio operator answered phones and glanced at the clock on the wall. It was 4 p.m. At home, families were sitting down to a Christmas dinner.

In the sterile emergency ward at Northwestern Community Hospital, a nurse in a white uniform sat down and lit a cigarette. Ahead of her was a long line of patients waiting for an examination.

On Christmas night the emergency ward would be busy.

Two Mount Prospect policemen quietly patrolled the side streets of their village.

In many of the homes they passed, they could see parties in progress. Families gathered around tables and uncles and nephews got together and swapped jokes in the kitchen. Women washed dishes and talked about their children.

THE OWNER of a private ambulance service sat in his office and drank a cup of coffee. Outside, his platoon of men were busy with the holiday season.

Many Happy Returns

BY BETTY ANSLIE

It was a pretty weather, just the kind I'd needed from Santa. One of those luscious, pretty flower prints in softest of colors with perfect blending of shades and I loved it as soon as I opened the box.

There was only one thing wrong—it was two sizes too small. Too large I could have managed but a grandma in a too tight sweater—well, back it had to go and it was added to the game son I 2 already had and the warm fire on in law found were too small.

"I KNOW IT, I know it," said Pop. "You never keep anything I buy you for Christmas." Which wasn't exactly true. I remember distinctly keeping a lens I'd helped pick out for my Christmas gift a few years back and both parties became. I'm not sure about brands, an electric living plant, a new mixer to replace the original wedding present one and an outdoor grill.

It was money tree though, I thought possibly, the present gifts Pop picked out were usually returned because they were too short, wrong size or wrong shape.

There was one longing robe he'd purchased and I'd returned without comment for one less fancy and larger size I had actually worn the replacement several times before he'd realized it was not his original purchase.

But the sweater I liked, even Pop had to reluctantly admit it did fit a little too soon about the collar. It was a wonderful feeling, though, to receive something so nicely for myself instead of a household appliance labeled for the housewife because no one else ever used it. The sweater, the electric broom, the floor polisher or that super-sized hamper bag.

THE STORES were crowded. Almost as crowded as pre-Christmas and all departments were doing a brisk business in returns. The game was easy to return. Son no. 2 just found another equally as difficult and the swim fin were credited. I'd find the right size at another store nearer the summer season possibly.

Scientist Tells of Space, Future

"More money is spent on cosmetics than the trip to the moon," said NASA budget," said Arthur C. Clarke, featured speaker on the Park Ridge Town Hall lecture series. Clarke, inventor of the communications satellite, spoke on the space program, and pointed out that about one billion dollars' worth of non-functioning satellites are in orbit, perhaps the earth and spend only 25 cents a second to make them.

He envisioned the day when the telephone we know and use as an extension of Indian and signals. With a computer TV, console in every home; it will be possible to see and speak to anyone anywhere in the world at the cost of a button.

The same device will be used to project the latest news stories into the home. Direct broadcasts from satellites to our TV and radio sets, bypassing national frontiers and censorship will eventually lead to a common language throughout the world, he said.

"YOU KNOW that," I'd really enjoy a sweater just like the one you have there," said my mother. "I'm returning it."

"It's too small for me," I said sadly.

"Just the size," she said, noting the size in the neck label. "I really like just what I like."

Well, she exchanged her longing pajamas and happily repurchased my returned sweater.

"It's kind of nice getting something for me alone this I'll say. My husband will be so glad he finally found something I'll wear for his Christmas present. She winked at me at the bureau on her way.

Estimated Park Program Costs Near $3 Million

BY MAXINE TYMA

New cost estimates place the Arlington Heights Park District development program in the near $3 million league for the spring referendum. The new plan includes additional facilities, such as an indoor swimming pool and an indoor tennis court at Arlington High School. # Susan Hidding Bride Of Jay Allison Maher

Fifty male voices of the Chicago Swedish Glee Club were raised in song at the candlelight wedding of Susan Hidding and Jay Allison Maher, United States Navy Air Corps, Oct. 14 in the Northminster Presbyterian Church, Evanston, Ill. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Hidding of Arlington Heights. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Allison J. Maher of Dolton, Ill.

Dr. Melvin A. Pearce officiated at the ceremony. The Glee Club conducted by Dr. Harry T. Carlson sang Masonic's "Lord's Prayer" and Bach's wedding cantata, "Der Herr Scheide Euch." The organ was played by Russell Stephens, Glee Club accompanist. The church was decorated with bouquets of bronze, rust and yellow chrysanthemums tied with velvet ribbons.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory floor-length gown of imported Swiss fabric. French lace, beaded by the bride's mother, accented the hem, neckline and cuffs, and was used to fashion a matching hairpiece. Her veil of tulle illusion was cathedral-length, front and back. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Kathy Crisp, given in marriage by her father, wore a semi-tied, floor-length gown of ivory and gold velvet fashioned with light sleeves and a white neckline. Her hair was made of matching velvet. She carried a bouquet of bronze mums, poinsettias and roses.

BRIDEMAIDS were Helen Lu Boos, Freeport, Ill.; Regina Coughlin, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Loren H. Senter, Mount Pleasant; and Mrs. Dana Meyer, Des Plaines. The bridesmaids wore the same design and color as the gown worn by the mother of the bride. The gowns of Miss Boos, Mrs. Senter and Nancy Hidding, 11 junior bridesmaids and six of the brides, were similarly designed in Cognac tulle.

The bouquets carried by the bridesmaids were also bronze mums, poinsettias and wheat. The junior bridesmaid carried a smaller version.

Dennis Meyer of Des Plaines attended the groom's best man. Ushers were Robert Maher, brother of the bride, U.S. Navy, Key West, Fla.; Douglas J. Hidding, brother of the bride, Arlington Heights; Loren H. Senter, Mount Pleasant; Ray Schaefer, Key West, Fla.; Wendell Pugh, Harvey, Ill.; Brother of the bride, Robert D. Hidding, 10, junior groomsmen.

THE BRIDE'S mother wore a taupe floor-length satin dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories. The dress was accented with copper and gold beading.

The groom's mother chose a mint green crepe dress with beaded bodice and matching shoes and hat fashioned of French illusion veiling.

Two Meadows Women Appear On TV Show

Mrs. Howard Frye and Mrs. Edward Petzok, members of the Rolling Meadows Junior Women's Club recently appeared on the Lee Philip Show to discuss some of their ideas for preparing holiday foods.

Mrs. Petzok sang an hour of songs to a collection of terms on which to heat the appetizers and a Danish puff pastry coffee cake. Mrs. Petzok showed miniature decorated fruitcakes used as package ornaments and how to make the appetizers, "Eaten on Rye Rolls."

A RECEPTION for 400 guests was held at 8 p.m. at the Metropolitan Hotel, Chicago. A hot and cold buffet and hour of dancing was served. The Ralph Sterling orchestra provided music for dancing.

Despite Holidays, LWV Maintains Observer Corps

Shopping and holiday festivities have not kept women of the local League of Women Voters from attending township, village and school board meetings.

The purpose of the LWV is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. League members believe in informing themselves first, and in addition to their studies, maintain an Observer Corps, which sends representatives to meetings of local governing bodies.

NEW additions to the Observer Corps are Mrs. Gene Rignall and Mrs. Oren Sherman who will be attending Arlington Heights town commission meetings.

Mrs. W.J. Marter of Arlington Heights, who is the town chairman, has been attending Dec. 25 meetings for two years. Mrs. Marter regards her watching duty as "one of the highlights of her life activities."

Mrs. Rignall, who just president of the local league, serves as alternate observer at the Arlington Heights Village Board and Mrs. George Schroeder and Roy Henningson, who just president, calendar the first Tuesday of every month for the Wheeling Township Board of Auditors meetings.

BOTH Mrs. Schroeder, board member of the Cook County LWV, and Mrs. Poia attend the rotating meetings of the Northwest Municipal Conference.

Mr. John Hoppe of Mount Prospect, an observer to Dist. 214 board for the past several years, has recently relinquished this post of her league activities and is heading the LWV's study on school districts in Wheeling and Elmhurst townships. Mrs. Robert C. O'Brien of Arlington Heights is now observing this board meeting.

Information on the new Arlington Heights library is passed on to league members by Mrs. William H. Harter, library observer. Mrs. Harvey Harter of Mount Prospect has been attending Harper Junior College board sessions for the past year. Mrs. Harter says, "It has been interesting to watch the intricacies of college politics being formalized and she is now planning to enroll for several courses."

ADJUTANT Prosser residents who attend their village board meetings include Mrs. Ralph Waterhouse, Mrs. W. Eugene Harris and Mrs. Raymond O'Brien.

LWV members attend all seven of board meetings, not just those concerning special interest or controversial matters, according to Mrs. Marter, observer corps chairman.

The Hidding family celebrated the wedding Saturday for a rehearsal of Coddilion II for date and their date. Mrs. Linda Lohrke and her date, Charles Lohrke from Mount Prospect, are ready for the big night - Wednesday, Dec. 27 at the Gold Coast Room of the Drake Hotel.

Really Want to Stop Biting Nails?

Did you know that one-third of all American families have at least one nail-biting member? Did you know that among nail-biters, two-thirds are female?

There were the findings in a survey conducted by a leading pharmaceutical company which has launched a new product for teenage nail-biters.

KNOWN as Nailcure, the product is believed to be the first nailbiting and cuticle-softening deerscent ever developed especially for teenagers and young adults. Nailcure was created in the laboratories of the Parapac Corporation.

The new product consists of a bottle holding an odorless liquid which is applied like nail-polish. The liquid contains an extremely mild, tasteless, but completely harmless chemical agent which makes the nailbiter withdraw his or her finger from the mouth almost instantly.

Eventually, a conditioned reflex is established which helps to break the nailbiting habit by making the nailbiter automatically recall his or her hand as it is lifted toward the mouth.

In simple terms, the habit becomes so unpleasant that the user eventually is forced to stop.

AN UNUSUAL feature of the new product is that it is a "Nailcure treatment." There are two versions - a fluorescent pink, a color most favored by teenagers, and in Beautiful! Fingerlids, which is a transparent clear.

Cards Win DeKalb Opener

BY TOM WALSH

DEKALB — Arlington High School's varsity basketball team had to travel 70 miles to get away from Mid-Southern League equality, but the Cards clubbed a 42-16 to the quarter-finals of the 18-team DeKalb Holiday Tournament.

The Cards put on a defensive show that slowed the Wolves only 15 points in 41 attempts. Arlington guards R. Collins and Jim Baumgartner parried the defensive attack with lockdown ball-handling that led to 16 points for Collins and 15 for Baumgartner.

Senior center Dave McCaffrey led the Cards in the rebounding department, grabbing 13 of Arlington's 37 rebounds.

BILL WILSON, a chunky, 240-pound, 6-4 center, proved the Wolves only bang in the Cards' side as he converted for 19 points on five field goals and nine of 13 free throws. He also took 15 rebounds.

Obviously, the Cards hit on 27 of 42 field goal attempts and 18 of 33 free throws.

Collins' three-quarter, 18-point total was high for the Big Red, but not by much. The 1-10 junior forward DeKalb's team scored 42 points. McCaffrey was third man with 15 points, followed by Baumgartner's 13.

The Redskins jumped to a 12-13 first quarter on an eight-point effort by McCaffrey and six-point showings by Baumgartner and Schmeider. The Cards' offense counted 11 and piling up a 41-24 lead.

THE WOLVES came into the second half with a full court press, but to no scoring advantage, as Arlington failed to loosen its defensive net and called over Waterman 17-12 in the third quarter.

Arlington head coach Bill Sayon removed his first man in the final quarter, replacing Arlington by only one, 15-14 in the final period.

The win puts the fifth-seeded Cards against Behaviors, which Tuesday edged fourth-seeded Charlotte 16-52, for its quarter-final berth.

The winners will take on the Buccaneers Thursday at 3 p.m.

In other tourney action, top-seeded DeKalb bounced back to a 21-13 win and Rockwell knocked off Concord-Kingston, 70-48.

Lions Game, But Lose to Surge By Eisenhower in 4th Quarter

BY RALPH NOVAK

A FOURTH QUARTER Eisenhower comeback Tuesday had just enough oomph to overcome a brilliant, leading, St. Victor performance and trip the Lions, 48-46, in an opening round game of the State's Christmas Classic basketball tournament in Nile.

The Lions, tagged along by St. Victor's 13-point third quarter, carried a 55-52 lead into the final period, but the Cardinals were too hot and Victor Huffled too many chances in the closing minutes.

The loss sent St. Victor into the losers' round of the tournament, where they take on Ridgecroft (Norridge) at 6 p.m. Thursday. Ridgecroft lost to Carmel (Woodstock), 61-38, Tuesday.

ST. VICTOR was still stricken, as starting forward Greg Doyle didn't play and guard Dave Efford didn't start, but the Lions got a good fill-in guy at forward from Mark Pomplun and an outstanding one at guard from Terry Cullen.

Pomplun collected five rebounds and four points, including a clutch basket that brought the Lions to within two points with 1:30 left. Cullen had five assists and scored eight points in the first half, but picked up four fouls and sat out while Efford came in to lead them that night minutes in a whistle-laden third period.

Brewley's 21 points were high for St. Victor. While Don Reising worked for 16 rebounds as the Lions took 39 missed shots to the Cards' 38, Bill Yeager added seven rebounds and 18 points on five lay-ups and seven free throws from Cullen and Brewley that broke Eisenhower's press.

CARD GUARD Sam Scitnick popped in 22 points, but was 6-9 forward Leon Mitchell who broke a 66-66 tie with 13 seconds to go on a 15-foot jump shot.

Brewley, who had created the 66-66 tie with an 18-foot jumper, tried to force together one with a similar shot, but it went in and out, and the St. Victor forward Don Reising (dark jersey) battles Eisenhower's 6-4 center, Bill Rutz, for a rebound during the Lions' 48-46 loss in an opening round game of the Notre Dame (Nile) Christmas Classic tournament Tuesday. Eisenhower's Ramon George (27) and Earl Derry (14) and the Lions' Terry Cullen (12) wait for the outcome of the Reising-Rutz battle.

Cullen's 6-6 center, Bill Rutz, landed onto the rebound, only by the fourth of the game. The Lions had the ball two more times — with three seconds to go and then with only one second left — but couldn't get a shot, as Reising traveled and Pomplun didn't have time to unleash a shot after intercepting the Cards' in-bound pass.

Victor trailed most of the first half, but led briefly at 7-4 and never was more than seven points down. They closed that gap — at 32-25 — when Brewley hit over basket and Yeager two, all of the shots coming off rips.

Riding that finished a push shot home, Mitchell put the score back to 66-62 with a drive, and Pomplun tossed in an 18-footer to set up Brewley's game tying shot after which came the two teams twice exchanged turnovers.

THE LIONS shot 475 from the floor — hitting 22 of 39 tries — and made 10 of 13 free throws. Eisenhower was 27 for 62 from the floor — a 43.4 mark — but hit only 14 of 34 free throws.

The victory puts Eisenhower into the tournament winners round, where they'll meet the winner of Wednesday's Elk Grove-Waller game. Waller lost Foreman, 77-43, in Tuesday's first game.

GOP Backs Primary Governor Candidate, Says Twp. Chairman

BY RICHARD CRAB

The office of Cook County Republican Chairman Timothy Sheehan today reported that all but five of the 26 suburban Cook Township GOP candidates for governor. Twenty-one of the township GOP organizations have been pledged to work for the election of Richard B. Ogilvie. One township, Arlington Heights, has pledged to support the election of William H. Hoffman. The third district that includes northern Cook County from Northbrook to Northbrook.

It set the stage for the Wheeling Township Republican caucus. He said that he is drawing upon a charge given by the generation of Americans a long while ago in "To the pole you sons of freedom."

REPUBLICANS by contract government, can elect a President of the United States and a Governor of Illinois in 1968. Schickman believes that his main concern is with Wheeling Township and northwest Cook County.

When the township GOP candidates are going to endorse GOP candidates for high office in 1968, including the office of Illinois governor.

A year ago the Wheeling Township Republican organization developed an endorsement procedure. We did this in an advance so that we could work out the details of a political campaign. Schickman explained: "We were ready."

We will take the first step on Feb. 2 when we will hold our first candidates night. At least two candidates for governor John H. Hoffman of Aurora and Sen. Richard Gotschall of Evanston, will appear before the meeting. Two weeks later another candidates' night will be held.

AFTER THE candidates have been heard in the open forum, the Wheeling Township GOP executive committee will consider endorsements and make recommendations. These recommendations will be placed before the Wheeling Township GOP precinct meetings. Under the procedures adopted a year ago, endorsements will require a two-thirds vote of the precinct captains with a quorum present. A quorum for endorsement meetings is a minimum of two-thirds of the captains.

Owners Can Discriminate Under Fair Housing Plan

By Charles Mountaint

The proposed fair housing ordinance allows the individual homeowner to discriminate against prospective buyers even on property listed with a Realtor.

That is the meaning of the ordinance according to the village board's legal committee which met last night to clarify the legal language of the document.

Paul Palmer, chairman, said that his committee will recommend to the board the passage of the proposed ordinance with some amendments.

purely minor changes in its wording.

"I PAID money for my house and I would never agree to an ordinance that would tell me how to sell it," said Trustee Charles Bennett.

But the ordinance does prohibit Realtors from discriminating. The final decision is left to the board.

The intent of the ordinance is to take the Realtor from the middle, as a possible discriminating party, according to Trustee John White, a lawyer.

As the proposed ordinance states, a Realtor may sell a prospective buyer that the owner of the property is discriminating for reasons of color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

But the buyer may insist to be taken to the owner who could state his preference. The homeowner has the ultimate voice in the transaction.

LET THE individual Realtors have the advantage of telling someone that he will not sell his home because of the person's color, said Mrs. Norbert Leighton, a member of the local human relations committee.

If the ordinance is adopted it will be unlawful for any Realtor handling property in Arlington Heights to "refuse to sell to any person who has specified his needs which his broker is offering, including those on any multiple listing of real estate."

It would also be against the law for the Realtor to fail to show property for the same reason.

THE ORDINANCE covers sale or rental of property and the financing of real estate transactions.

Representatives of local Realtors said yesterday that inadequate consideration has been given to the proposed ordinance.

"I have been correctly said that more time has been given to an apartment development than the whole ordinance of the ordinance," said attorney William Moore, a Realtor.

At the time, Alan Peters, charged at the end of the meeting that the ordinance committee knew what it wanted in the ordinance and included it in the ordinance.

"We have met with a preponderance of opinion. The ordinance will contain," said Peters.

The two attorneys also said.

that there have not been enough public hearings on the ordinance.

"The need for a fair housing ordinance has never been developed," Moore said. He said that the Realtors' position is against the ordinance because it is not necessary in the village, but he was unable to discuss the content of the ordinance because it appeared the ordinance would be in.

"WE RECOGNIZE almost to a man that the majority of the people in the village are themselves for some kind of discrimination."

Moore and Peters objected to the wording of several parts of the ordinance but were overruled by the legal committee.

They also objected to the article of the ordinance prohibiting Realtors from discriminatory practices because, Moore said, the whole real estate industry here would be hurt.

The board of trustees, with a 4-3 vote, approved the ordinance, as expected to vote on Jan. 2.

Family Gets Surprise Present From Vietnam

BY MAXINE TYMA

When Edward John rang the doorbell of his parents' home at 103 N. Pine, Arlington Heights, last Saturday his family was surprised.

They thought he was in Vietnam. John, 20, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Buege. He left Nov. 4, 1965, to the 10th Infantry Division of the Army in Vietnam.

Arriving 15 days after his arrival in Vietnam, he was working the arm and hand at Da Nang.

He spent two weeks in a hospital in Vietnam and was sent to a Tokyo, Japan, hospital for two weeks. Finally, he arrived from Japan. At Glenview Naval Air Station, a friend drove him to his Arlington Heights home.

"I was less than two months ago when I left him at O'Hare Field," said Mr. Buege.

"I DIDN'T think we would see him for at least a year," he said.

John was able to spend Christmas with his family and friends but returned to Great Lakes Naval Hospital Tuesday.

"We said we were going to wrap him up and put him under the Christmas tree, but we were crushed," said his mother.

She said she didn't know how long he would have to remain at Great Lakes but he already had three operations on his wounded arm.

OTHER MEMBERS of the family who celebrated Christmas with Edward John were his brothers and sister, Robert John and Kelly Meadows, Mrs. Jane Panastro of Rolling Meadows, Mrs. L. Lewis of Rolling Meadows, and Douglas Meadows, a student at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb.

Delbert Ruge, a student at Philadelphia College in Philadelphia, Pa., was also a member of the family.

John was graduated from Arlington High School in 1966.

Planners Ask More Time To Consider Wallach Apartments

BY TED LACEY

agreement between Wallach and the village for the trying to say the property in the two blocks he does not yet own.

The two blocks, both of which are vacant, are zoned R-5. Wallach said. If he succeeds in getting all the ones he will build apartment houses on them identical to the ones he hopes to build across Cleveland Ave. in Park Morton.

ACCORDING to the agreement which Wallach claims he will with the village, he has the prerogative of building multi-family housing there, but if he cannot get all the land he will build single family houses on the land he does not own.

Considering the questions that have been raised, the meeting will be held at the meeting Monday and "we need some time to digest this matter and review the records," he asked Wallach to return Jan. 8, at 8 p.m. to clarify the hearing, with the information necessary to clarify the matter in question.

Several citizens living in areas bordering the proposed Park Manor asked questions concerning the future of their neighborhood.

ONE QUESTION raised was whether the two blocks between Roosevelt and Cleveland, Fairview and Davis are included in the proposed development, and what is to become of five blocks owned by Wallach.

Wallach said that the area is not included in the present plan, but added that he is much time was spent by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission last night trying to say the property in the two blocks he does not yet own.

But Commission Chairman Fred Amick said that he had received a letter, dated Sept. 22, 1965, from Miller's law firm stating that the agreement made Jan. 4, 1964, was canceled because the village had in several ways breached the covenants.

The letter said that the village had in several ways breached the covenants. Amick said that he knew nothing about the matter, but Wallach said that since the time the letter was sent the agreement has been terminated.

The reason for the letter in the first place, Wallach said, was that he was having trouble getting building permits. Miller said "I would be my guess that this map was taken as a negotiating technique, a bargaining technique."

But because he had received no notice of termination of the agreement, Amick said "I don't know if this land is still zoned R-5 or not," and suggested that Wallach's representatives be prepared to submit proof at the next meeting.

"Hold on my father," says Kenneth Martin. He is the son of the late, the Rev. George Martin, as he often is to be for the first time at Park Manor. (Photo by Maxine Tyma)

Martin, of 828 N. Whiskey, received her first part of his father for Christmas and took up the 4th for her, after her first time at Park Manor.

Pop! She took the spin like a pro too. Martin Robinson barely got down only long enough to have her picture snapped before she was on her feet again, and skating.

Festive Casserole for Your Guests

The music's playing, the guests have arrived, and the party's on. And now it's the time for the hosts to come up with the piece of resistance, which will make this gathering a long-sung success story. 2 teaspoons gray coloring
Salt and pepper to taste
4 cups sliced, cooked chicken or turkey

Palatine National Bank Breaks Ground for $1 Million Building

Stager-ghosts Neil Williams, of 3430 E. Broadwayway, Ch. Arlington Heights, plays straight man to comedian Phil Foster's character in The Laughing Club's Last Chance Show. After an absence of a few months, Ned has returned to the club to begin his sixth year with Burton Brown's establishment.

The Palatine National Bank's new $1 million air-mirrored building, for which ground was broken Tuesday, may be the most ambitious bank construction project in suburban Chicago since the 1920s.

Ten times larger than the bank's current quarters at 34 N. Broadway, a few yards to the southeast, the new structure will combine avant-garde architecture and modern materials but retain many features traditional to financial institutions.

Interior features will include a computer channel, power files, air conditioning and wall-to-wall carpeting throughout, two hydraulic elevators, employe lockers and a vault containing 6,000 safety deposit boxes, compared with the current 1,700.

EXTERIOR features will include heated sidewalks, underground utility lines, landscaping, a parking lot with 150-car capacity, four drive-up teller windows of additional stories at a later date.

Hub of one of the most rapidly expanding areas in metropolitan Chicago, Palatine has grown from a population of 1,500 in 1945 to an estimated 25,000 today. The 1950 projection is 75,000.

IN THE PAST 24 years, Palatine National has increased its total assets from $6 million to about $17 million. Fitzgerald indicated that the new facilities will permit growth to $100 million.

The new 30,500 square-foot structure will include a basement level, two floors and a mezzanine, with the 10,000 square-foot second floor devoted exclusively to retail space of approximately 1,200 square feet each. Footings will permit the addition of additional stories at a later date.

Architect's conception of air-mirrored $1 million, 30,500 square-foot building to be constructed by Palatine National Bank. Shown in heart of fast-growing industrial and residential area.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS $280,000

New Village limits signs reflecting the population of Arlington Heights established by a special census last August are unveiled today.

Signs of Booming Village

The first of the Village limits signs reflecting the results of special census in August, 1967, were delivered in Arlington Heights today by the Illinois Division of Highways.

The population is reported to be approximately 53,800. The actual result of the August census was 53,787. The present village limits boundary set a special census taken in January, 1966. The population then was 40,600.

"We are glad to have the new village limits signs," said Mayor John G. Woods today. "Unfortunately they are already somewhat out of date. Our village manager told me that the Arlington Heights population has increased by as much as 2000 since the census was taken four months ago."

WHEN HANSON recommended a special census nearly a year ago, he predicted that it would be summer by 1968 when the last official census reported a population of 40,600. Hanson's estimate was within 1 percent of the actual.

Woman, 71, Breaks Leg Chopping Wood

Richard Fitting, 71, 921 S. Elm, was taken to Northwestern Community Hospital Sunday after she broke her leg while chopping wood outside.

Hospital officials said she was in good condition.

Car Stolen

Joseph J. Badenski told Arlington Heights Police Thursday a company car was stolen while it was parked in the driveway of his home at 4 E. When Oak.

Arlington Heights Police telephoned a description of the car to Chicago and Cook County police authorities.

Gripe Of The Day

Construction and utility trucks that drive into roads too muddy to pass.

Commissioners of nine park districts will be invited to attend a meeting to discuss the formation of a Northwest Suburban Recreation Council designed to bring a co-operative sports center to the suburban area.

Park district superintendents and commissioners were present yesterday to hear representatives of T. E. Samuels & Assoc., and Ahrendt Engineering Co. present plans for a Northwest Suburban Recreation Center to be located in an area served by the Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Des Plaines, Elk Grove Village, Palatine, Park Ridge, River Trails, Rolling Meadows, and Wheeling Park districts.

A second meeting in late January was suggested by the group that met at the Holiday Inn in Rolling Meadows to explain the proposal.

"The 1968 budget of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Cook County, Illinois, is $79,446,714, about $15 million more than the 1967 budget.

The tax rate of the district also had increased by .002 to .3572 for $100 of assessed valuation.

"Every effort has been made to hold the line to the pendulum, but because of the need to protect our precious source of water we have deemed it prudent and necessary to make a substantial increase," said Nicholas J. Meias, finance committee chairman.

HEADED... According to the increased tax rate, owners will pay $53,712 every $10,000 of assessed value in the study of the project.

Ice Skating Carnival Saturday

The annual ice skating carnival presented by the Arlington Heights Rotary Club will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon at the recreation center at Olive and Maple. Events are scheduled for boys and girls of all ages. In case of unfavorable weather or conditions, the event will be held Jan. 6.

Death Ruled Accidental

A coroner's jury ruled Thursday the death of Miss Mary Deas, 16, of 1045 S. Meigs, was accidental.

The 16-year-old girl was killed in a subject killed in an auto accident Oct. 28 at Oak and Buffalo Grove Rd.

Sanitary District Approves Funds For 3 Northwest Flood Projects

By Charles Mounades

The Salt Creek basin will cost an estimated $350,000 and will be constructed north of Rolling Meadows.

The Metropolitan Sanitary District trustees yesterday approved about $600,000 for the three 1968 area projects designed to control flooding and pollution.

What is a final list completed yesterday, pushed the O'Hare and Salt Creek basins to the bottom of the priorities.

Funds were appropriated for the Buffalo Creek and Salt Creek water retention reservoirs and a more water pumping station in Wheeling during the last budgetary meeting of the trustees.

THE BUFFALO Creek basin is estimated to cost $200,000. It will be located west of the north of Arlington Heights.

Sanitary Dist. Budget $13 Million Higher

"Nevertheless, we managed to trim some $1,750,000 from the original proposed budget," he said. The rest of the funds appropriated are estimated to be $13 million, but was an effort to supply the city funds that would be too costly to finance for individual districts.

Representatives who attended the meeting questioned the $13 million figure. They argued for two hours on the proposed plan, but the trustees have the authority to commit their votes to participation in the study of the project.

THE DISTRICT could require 10 to 20 acres of land for adequate recreation and parking facilities.

No commitment has yet been made by any park district. Sanitation said he hoped the district examinations would agree to the formation of a committee to plan the sports center.

The increase in the district is primarily the result of an increase in the district's construction fund, which went up from about $25 million in 1967 to about $40 million in 1968.

The tax rate, which is the highest since 1962, will provide about $65 for each $100 of assessed valuation. The rest of the funds appropriated are estimated to be $13 million, but was an effort to supply the city funds that would be too costly to finance for individual districts.

According to the increased tax rate, owners will pay $53,712 every $10,000 of assessed value in the study of the project.

'Male War Bride' Author to Speak Here Next Week

Dr. Roger Charlier, author of "I Was a Male War Bride," will be guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club at 115 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 3 at Recreation Park fieldhouse.

Dr. Charlier has earned degrees in Europe and America. He is a native of Amersy, Belgium, but is now an American citizen. He was called into military service in 1940 and joined the underground after the surrender of Belgium. His work on behalf of the Allies brought him months in German prisons, a commission in the Army upon the liberation of Belgium and commendations from both President Truman and General Eisenhower.

Phonies in several languages, he was sent on various foreign missions, and eventually represented Belgium at the War Crimes trials.

Dr. Charlier, resident scholar in and professor of geography, geology and oceanography at Chicago Teachers College North, has published 300 articles. Under the pseudonym Henry Richard he wrote "I Was a Male War Bride," "Phonies" and "For the Love of Risk." Mrs. Robert MacDonald, program chairman, will introduce the speaker. Coffee and tea hostesses, Mrs. Henry Wessel and Mrs. Stephen McDonald, will assist hospitality chairman Mrs. John T. Freeman.

Members are asked to save books, hobby magazines, short music, etc. for the used book sale to be held in March. A book for books will be in the lobby at the meeting or at the home of Mrs. Donald F. Walsh, 239-5983 for pick-up service. Mrs. Stephen Davis is president.

Dr. Roger Charlier, whose book "I Was a Male War Bride" is familiar to many, will speak to the Arlington Heights Woman's Club at their 115 p.m. meeting Jan. 3 at Recreation Park.

BY HELEN HENNESSY
About three years ago the stocking industry got a shot in the arm.

The life-giving prescription was the patented stocking of the girl behind the hype, the young, the daring, the unimpeachable lass who could rather switch than be called old-lady.

FASHION reporters, quick to be on to anything "new" did a fine job of making anyone who resisted the trend feel out of this.

I recall reading one comment by a fashion writer about how drab and monotonous it was to catch hundreds of beige legs across a department store escalator.

A picturesque phrase - but I agree a boring one.
Yet it is a fact that any girl who wears beige, from the little saint of an elderly lady to the young, the daring, the unimpeachable lass who could rather switch than be called old-lady.

THE TRUTH is that our current, tricky, colorful leg coverings aren't "new" at all. coverings aren't "new" at all. As far back as the late

In the Gay Nineties, lace stockings tipped their way through the Turkey Trot. Today they Swim, Bounce, Frig and Watusi. (Or do they any more? I can keep up with the history, not the writhing.)

EVEN TODAY'S designers who create the look look with stockings done in the same color and fabric as the earliest shoulder among the great-grand.

The cut and sewed found stockings to match her long-sleeved flannel nightgown.

AND HERE we are now, with the latest leg look—the opaque stockings, non-see-through in dark shades. And the appearance of the leg imply reverts to the look of take-a-look that cannot a horrid shoulder among the beautiful young people of older are once still come on the scene.

Even those back to the T-straps, buckles and chunky heels of yesterday. So, as we say on Seventh Avenue: "What's New?"

Taste-Tempting Dip for Holiday Entertaining

Lobster and Cheese dip is a delectably different holiday dip combining zesty American blue cheese with lobster.

Holiday entertaining is fun for the whole family and the best thing about entertaining is the fun foods that go along with the season.

Lobster and Cheese Dip is a exciting holiday dip combining zesty American blue cheese with lobster.

the lobster shell and garnished with paprika and parsley, it will make a colorful addition to any table, be it buffet or individual snack trays.

Here's all you do to make this taste-tempting dip. Boil desired quantity of frozen lobster tails. Drain off water and drizzle with cold water.

Insert finger between shell and meat and pull out in one piece. Reserve shell to be used for dip mixture. Chill meat cut in 1-inch cubes.

For dip, mix your cream, crumbles of American blue cheese and dash of Worcestershire sauce and some lobster tails. Place dip in lobster shells and sprinkle top with blue cheese and paprika.

Serve with lobster, shrimp or scallop tidbits on toothpicks. Also excellent served for the appetizer course with crisp croutons, potato chips, raw vegetables or toasted bread cubes.

MOST NEW wash and wear fabrics, and this includes permanent press, have a resin finish which is chlorine-resistant. So a chlorine bleach can discolor or yellow the resin finish fabric. Even though many permanent press garments, including men's and boys' white shirts, may carry "do not bleach" tags, they can be bleached without worry with a safety bleach.

One expert, speaking to a recent National Home Laundry Conference, summed up safety bleaches as "safe for all three, fabrics and finishes, kinder to colors and safe to use on the majority of colored items. Even if over-used, safety bleach will not cause fabric damage. It cannot yellow or discolor Spandex, perprem and other wash and wear fabrics.

Many homemakers consider a safety bleach as a heavy-duty work, a safety bleach is essential for silk, wool and permanent press. It's the safe way to keep your white wool dress, that Italian silk blouse, the new Scandinavian wool sweater and all those work-saving permanent press clothes bright and fresh through many a washing.
